

I wanted to let you know about an upcoming hiring event we are hosting in our local Sears stores. We have 33 full-line stores participating, and they are looking to hire 200+ the day of the event! Positions range from cashier and merchandising, all the way up to sales and management. I'm attaching a flier for your convenience, and would really appreciate it if you were willing to share the information with any and all contacts you have that may be interested.
